Pegasus Bay 'Maestro' Merlot /Malbec 2005 Waipara, NZ

The wine has a bright garnet hue. The low crops has given the wine extra concentration. Merlot (85%) has provided a core of plump, plummy, velvety fruit, while Malbec (15%) has provided rose-petal-like notes, along with a backbone of ripe, savoury tannins which flow through the palate and draw out the length. There are also hints of vanilla pod, dark chocolate and liquorice.

Stonyridge 'Larose' 2003 Waiheke Island, NZ

The colour is vibrant and dark purple with great density. Rich fragrant nose abundant with fruit including black plums and berry fruits mixed with secondary notes of cedar, leather, earth, chocolate and pencil shavings. Rich fruit and oak notes run through a tight and concentrated palate held together by firm ripe tannins.

TOM 2002 Hawkes Bay, NZ

Tom is a tribute to Tom McDonald, a passionate and dedicated winemaker who devoted his life to producing outstanding New Zealand red wines. Variety: Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Malbec. Deep, rich garnet in colour. A complex array of fruit and secondary complexities, including cassis, black plums, cigar box, earth, spice, dark chocolate, new leather and an underlying minerality. In the tradition of great Bordeaux, TOM 2002 exhibits exceptional concentration balanced by a backbone of firm tannin. The wine is powerful, but tight and long textured.
